

WHAT IS THE GOSPEL?

A Clear Message of Hope

The Bible tells one story—
moving steadily forward—
promise to fulfillment,
shadow to substance—
until Christ stands at the center, and His flock gathers to Him.

Why This Matters

We use the word “gospel” often.
But what does it actually mean?

The word gospel means “good news.”

Not advice.

Not self-improvement.

Not religion.

It is news about what God has done.

And if we misunderstand it, we misunderstand everything.

The Problem We Face

We were made for God.

- To know Him
- To love Him
- To live under His good rule

But something has gone wrong.

We have all turned from Him.

The Bible calls this sin—not just wrong actions, but a wrong direction of the heart.

Because of this:

- We are guilty before a holy God
- We are inwardly broken
- We are spiritually alienated (not separated from His presence, but estranged from Him)

This is the human condition.

What We Cannot Do

Most people think the answer is:

- Try harder
- Be better
- Do more good than bad

But the Bible says:

We cannot fix ourselves.

- We cannot erase guilt
- We cannot change our nature
- We cannot earn our way back to God

If the gospel is good news, it must be something God does—not us.

What God Has Done

This is the heart of the gospel.

God did not leave us in our condition.

He sent His Son—Jesus Christ.

- He lived the life we failed to live
- He obeyed God perfectly
- He loved without sin

Then He did something astonishing:

He died in our place.

- Taking the judgment we deserved
- Bearing our sin
- Satisfying God's justice

And on the third day:

He rose from the dead.

What This Means

Because of Jesus:

- Sin can be forgiven
- Guilt can be removed
- Hearts can be made new
- Life can be restored

The gospel is not:

“Do this and live.”

The gospel is:

“Christ has done this—receive and live.”

How We Respond

The Bible calls us to respond in two ways:

1. Repent

Turn from sin.

Turn from self-rule.

Turn toward God.

2. Believe

Trust in Jesus Christ alone.

Not partly in Him and partly in yourself.

Not in your effort.

Not in your record.

Rest entirely in Him.

What God Promises

To all who repent and believe:

- Full forgiveness
- A new heart
- Adoption into God's family
- The presence of God with them
- Eternal life

This is not earned.

It is given by grace.

Closing Call

The gospel is not something to admire.

It is something to receive.

Today, you are not being asked:

“Will you try harder?”

But:

“Will you trust Christ?”

What is the Gospel?

The gospel is the good news that God saves sinners through Jesus Christ—completely, freely, and forever.
