MILO FRANK'S HOW TO GET YOUR POINT ACROSS IN 30 SECONDS OR LESS

BOTTOM LINE:

If you can't say it clearly in 30 seconds,
you probably don't know what you're trying to say.

THE 10 PRINCIPLES OF CLEAR COMMUNICATION

#	PRINCIPLE	WHAT IT MEANS	HOW TO TEACH IT (EXAMPLES / PROMPTS)
1	WHY 30 SECONDS? Attention is short	People only truly focus for ~30 seconds at a time	Ask: "How long before your mind drifts in a meeting?"
2	OBJECTIVE Know exactly what you want	One clear goal—no mixed motives	"If you could only get ONE outcome from this conversation, what is it?"
3	LISTENER Know what THEY want	Speak to their interests, not yours	"Why should THEY care?"
4	APPROACH One central idea	A single sentence that drives everything	"What's your one big idea?"
5	HOOK Get attention fast	First sentence must grab interest	Start with a question: "What if you're wasting 90% of your words?"
6	SUBJECT Build your case	Use: what, why, how, when, who	Keep it tight—no fluff
7	ASK FOR IT Always close	If you don't ask—you don't get	"Can we schedule a meeting?"
8	PAINT A PICTURE Make it memorable	Use imagery, clarity, emotion	"Don't say 'costs rise'—say 'costs bleed your profits'"
9	DELIVERY How matters more than what	Tone, eye contact, energy	"It ain't what you say..."
10	REPEATABLE ANYWHERE Use in every situation	Meetings, calls, interviews, emails	Every key moment = 30-second message

CLARITY OF THINKING CREATES CLARITY OF MESSAGE.

BUILD THE 30-SECOND MESSAGE

THE 4-PART FRAMEWORK

HOOK

Get attention

POINT

(Objective + Approach)
What you want

SUPPORT

(Subject)
Why it matters

CLOSE

Ask for action

EXAMPLE: A MEETING THAT MOVES

HOOK

"Do you know why most meetings waste your time?"

POINT

"They lack a clear objective."

SUPPORT

"When no one knows the goal, people talk—but nothing moves."

CLOSE

"Before your next meeting, define ONE outcome."

TEACHING INSIGHT (THIS IS THE REAL GOLD)

Frank's deeper claim isn't just about brevity—it's about clarity of thinking:

If your message is fuzzy

→ your thinking is fuzzy.

If your thinking is sharp

→ your message is short.

That's why he says the 30-second message helps you:

- ✓ focus your thinking
- ✓ focus your speaking
- ✓ get results faster

MEMORY LINE

"Clarity first, brevity second—30 seconds forces both."
